About Us

Markel International Limited is the London based subsidiary for the international operations of Markel Corporation and is one of the UK's leading specialist insurance companies. The company has developed its expertise through understanding and catering for niche markets. In each of these markets Markel aims to provide quality products and excellent customer service thereby establishing the Markel brand as a market leader.

The company operates in the UK through two commercial entities: Markel International Insurance Company Limited, its London based insurance company and Markel Syndicate 3000, its 100 per cent owned Lloyd's syndicate. In both of these business environments Markel International offers a wide range of products, with its considerable underwriting expertise organised around the following product lines: Marine & Energy, Non-Marine Property, Specialty, Professional Liability and Retail.
